How's this for power? A handheld that is also a wireless phone with short message service and conference call capabilities. Surf the web and email. Check your calendar, skim a presentation, edit documents with a (pew!) built in keyboard and a high res color screen. Do it all with one hand. And, in fact, with just one thumb. Tungsten W by Palm.

AeroPlayer turns your Tungsten T into a portable music player. Just copy your music files onto an SD or MMC card (or transfer them using HotSync) and listen to your music on the go! AeroPlayer by Aerodrome Software.

Batting cages with limitless quarters. A sick day when you've never felt better. A candy store, a jungle gym, a slide or a sprinkler. A pile of movies and popcorn. A dog and a beach and no leash. Singing, however badly, while driving. It's a lot like that.

www.palmpowered.com/fun/pdawatch.

Fantastic gadgetry is now a reality. And it's stylish, too. There's a customizable watchface, touch screen input, and everything you'll find in a PDA. Oh, on top of all that, it doubles as a stellar watch. PDA Watch by Fossil.
